

Dear Valued Client,

Beginning mid-March, Imagewerks Marketing successfully transitioned our entire team to operate remotely. Although we are working from our home offices, our team continues to function at 100% capacity.

What does that mean for you? Even though we are not in the building, we can and will continue to provide you with the level of service and on-going support you've come to expect from us without interruption.

As a valued partner, we want to assure you that we are operating with business as usual, and we look forward to continuing our relationship with you now and in the future.

If you have any questions or concerns, please reach out.

Sincerely,

Eddie Faulkner
Vice President of Marketing Operations
